President Biden and the First Lady Welcome You to the White H...

“With each passing day, we all write America’s story. Together, we must work to open the doors of this home wider and wider to more fully reflect the distinct beauty of all our communities, recognizing that our differences are precious and our similarities infinite.

The President and I welcome you to experience your house, ‘the people’s house.’ May you treasure it as much as we do.”

Dr. Jill Biden, First Lady of the United States
